Services & Vision

No child should grow up hungry, alone, feeling unloved or like no one believes in them. All children deserve happy, safe and fun childhoods, because all kids matter.

Puddle Jumpers believes the best outcomes for children is being raised in the care of their birth parents in a safe and happy environment. This is not always possible due to a number of factors, and sometimes sadly that's through lack of basic necessities such as food and social connections with people who can support families in times of trouble.

Puddle Jumpers assists families with food and other every day necessities through our food hubs this helps reduce the number of children being removed from the care of their families. Puddle Jumpers aims to open multiple food hubs throughout SA to enable these safe havens for families fleeing domestic violence, families doing it tough and those who just need the extra help.

Young parents are an extremely high risk of vulnerability for removal of children due to a number of factors. A big reason for this is a low trusted support network, lack of knowledge and access to positive role models. Puddle Jumpers assists young mums and their children through our jump start programs and services which includes camps and a "Little Puddles Playgroup" Puddle Jumpers aims to increase the camps and the follow up services for this group and with the right spaces enable a strong network to be built around vulnerable young parents and their children.

When children are not able to live with their birth parents it is vital for them to have frequent safe and happy contact with their family members; siblings and parents. Puddle Jumpers assists with siblings access through camps where siblings can attend together regardless of the gender or age differences. Puddle Jumpers aims to have a space for access visits for families / parents and their children into the future where normal childhood memories can be developed, we aim to do this more like a house where cooking a meal can happen, or gardening or other everyday memories can be developed with children and parents.

Children who have been through significant trauma (such as not being able to live with their birth parents and/or separated from their siblings) have so many changes in their lives through schools, social workers, and living situations. They need the opportunity to be children and enjoy fun experiences in a safe and loving space. They need stability of a space they can continue coming back to as they grow up. Puddle Jumpers camps and activity days provide a welcome and safe space where children can be children and continue to come back time and time again. Puddle Jumpers aims to have a campsite that can be used more frequently for children and holiday camps – this would enable camps to happen every weekend – providing more stability, more connection and more support to develop lasting childhood memories that will reduce the risks for children.

Aims & Objectives..

Jump over puddles:

We aim to empower children to recognise and express their individual abilities, interests and talents, and to provide each child and young person with a transformative opportunity to grow and develop their own capacities and competencies.

We aim to build resilience in kids to enable them to believe in themselves, to believe that anything is possible and help them 'jump over puddles' that they have in their own lives.

Jump in all the puddles

We aim to enhance community cohesion, promote social inclusion, and encourage respect and tolerance for social diversity.

We aim to provide opportunities for self-challenge and development and facilitate opportunities for new learning in a fun and safe atmosphere.

We aim to share the happiness and adventure of being children and young people, and simply encourage kids to be kids, to 'jump in all the puddles'.

The Ripple Effect

We aim to provide opportunities for volunteers (especially young adults) to be involved in their community and open their hearts to the wonderful world of helping others.

We aim to provide volunteers with training, support and opportunities to expand their own development, promote social awareness, social compassion, and social leadership, encouraging our volunteers to develop a social partnership to enhance both their own lives and the lives of the children and young people they engage with.

We aim for volunteers to understand and value the impact that their actions and hearts can have on others in the community, especially those in need, thereby enhancing young adults' sense of social community, interaction and belonging.

Aims & Objectives..

We will do this by:

- providing recreational and educational residential camps for kids
- providing volunteer-positive mentors for kids on camps
- providing volunteers (especially young adults) with the opportunity to volunteer and gain experience in the human services sector
- promoting positive concepts of self-worth through the challenges and involvement in relationships and activities
- enhancing volunteers personal development skills
- ensuring that all volunteers receive adequate training and screening checks to optimise the experience of camp for all involved
- having high ratios of volunteers on all camps and activities
- enhancing volunteers' social leadership skills
- promoting healthy lifestyle practices through policies such as 'sun smart' and 'healthy eating'
- expanding children and young people's aspirations and visions of themselves
- providing leadership development opportunities for volunteers that contribute towards building individual self confidence
- enhancing children's skills to facilitate positive self-determination and empowerment
- facilitating social engagement opportunities, that encourage the development of empathy and compassion for those less fortunate
- working from a strengths-based approach; enhancing and building on existing strengths and capacities.

We are committed to:

- ensuring we meet the needs of kids and volunteers participating in our programs
- ensuring we are an open, honest, and transparent organisation
- ensuring the highest standards of safety and ethical behaviour to protect children
- enhancing the opportunities for development of our staff and volunteers
- ensuring we support the rights of the child and act to ensure a child safe environment is maintained at all times.

Child Protection Statement..

Puddle Jumpers Inc aims to create an enjoyable environment for all accessing our services.

We are committed to the safety and well being of all children, young people and families.

We support the rights of the child and will act to ensure a child safe environment is maintained at all times. The protection of the children and young people, who are temporarily entrusted into the care of Puddle Jumpers Inc, from Risk and Harm is the responsibility of all staff and volunteers.

We also support the rights, well being and responsibilities of our staff, volunteers, contractors and supporters and encourage their active participation in building and maintaining a secure environment for all participants.

All volunteers receive training in Child Safe Environments, reporting child abuse and neglect, and have access to a Child Safe guarding Officer on each camp or activity who is specifically there to assist with concerns and notifications related to Risk and Harm.

Camps..

Our camps are run every school holidays and are generally, camps are run with different themes, and some are targeted towards different 'groups'. Each camp will be advertised and promoted to our networks, agencies and notice boards.

Activities vary dependent upon the target group and are designed to enhance participation, appreciation and a feeling of successfully achieving something. Many activities are group activities, so everyone gets a chance to engage and be part of the winning team. This helps them to appreciate others, help each other and understand the concept of teamwork. This facilitates the recognition of talents and abilities by children.

On many occasions, more than one activity is planned to cater for every unique child's needs. All children are engaged at all times, ensuring that all children develop self-worth and skill sets when undertaking activities. Every camps' activities differ, based on the needs and the interests of the groups we are servicing, as well as available resources.

Each camp aims to offer opportunities such as social interaction, developing relationships, fostering self-esteem and self-worth development, and enhancement of skills and knowledge. This is undertaken through activities such as swimming, team sports and games. This ensures we build positive relationships with the young people through equality, respect and friendship while displaying appropriate role modeling at all times.

Most camps are suitable for ages 5 to 18 years for children—there are a few specific aged camps for leadership training, young mums & bubs, families camps which have varying ages.

We are able to through our op shops assist many people through value and quality items.

Kids Code of Conduct

At the beginning of each camp, the Camp Manager will facilitate a conversation with children and volunteers attending camp, to encourage clients to write up their 'Code of Conduct' for Camp.

The Code of Conduct for kids helps to explain their rights and responsibilities when taking part in Puddle Jumpers' activities. For this to work, kids need to be able to develop the codes for themselves, with our assistance.

Codes of Conduct for kids have been shown to be a great exercise to help them develop their own sense of fair play and mutual respect. When kids 'own' the code they will be more likely to protect and support it.

An effective Code of Conduct for kids:

- is discussed and debated by kids;
- addresses matters that are important to kids;
- is age appropriate;
- has been developed collectively;
- is in simple language;
- is accepted as fair and reasonable by kids and adults; and
- is widely promoted.

Although at each camp the Code of Conduct varies, catering for the ages and abilities of the various clients attending camps. it generally follows a set format and covers a minimum range of topics/issues.

The Code of Conduct for kids may cover issues like:

- ◆ how to treat each other and adults in the group
- ◆ how to deal with problems and accidents
- ◆ how to make choices and decisions.

Safety...

Each child on camp is accompanied by at least one volunteer at all times. We do have a 'two (2) volunteers at any one time' rule too, meaning that if there is a volunteer with a child by themselves they must be within eye/ear shot of at least one other volunteer at all times.

Volunteers wear name tags for easy identification. We try to make sure that every child on the camp is and feels safe. No one is allowed to enter the camp site without prior permission. All volunteers have working with children check undertaken before attending camp. Through their eyes training is also undertaken by all camp volunteers.

Prior to the camp, all volunteers have pre-camp sessions where the Program Coordinators explain the camp activities and instruct on handling special situations. The Camp Manager briefs volunteers on the clients (children/young people attending the camp) and any special care that a child requires. This helps the volunteers to create a good rapport with the children/young people as they arrive at the camp.

We instruct our volunteers regarding our policy and the importance of not swapping personal details with children, or breaching confidentiality. Communication between children and volunteers must only be conducted through Puddle Jumpers Inc. This includes social media networking sites such as Facebook, snapchat, instagram etc as well as emails. This is to protect both the children/young people and the volunteers involved in our services.

On all camps there are Child Safeguarding Officers and First Aid Officers, with all First Aid Officers holding a First Aid Certificate. If a volunteer, through the course of an interaction with a child, discovers any signs of abuse or neglect, the volunteer will report this to the Child Safeguarding Officer for further action. First Aid Officers collect and administer children's medicine as specified through doctor's prescriptions, provided by the children's parents or carers. First Aid kits are also taken on all camps.

Medication...

Puddle Jumpers Inc Medication Policy reflects the following principles:

- ⇒ safe principles and practices to administer medication;
- ⇒ hygiene practices
- ⇒ an acute attention to detail
- ⇒ the maintenance of accurate records
- ⇒ first aid qualifications
- ⇒ legislative requirements
- ⇒ recommended advice and practices from a medical source
- ⇒ open communication between volunteers/staff, families and children
- ⇒ the accountability of First Aid Officers when administering medication.

A First Aid Officer will administer (or oversee a child self administering) medication based on the following principles:

- ⇒ The right child
- ⇒ The right medication
- ⇒ The right dose
- ⇒ The right method
- ⇒ The right date and time

Before the first aid officer accepts prescribed medications from carers or guardians, they must ensure they are properly labelled and accompanied by a written statement (completed via the Medication Form and Health Care Plans from GPs).

Sleeping Arrangements

- All adults (workers/volunteers) will sleep in a separate room, cabin, or tent to the children/young people.
- No adults (workers/volunteers) may sleep alone in a room, or in the same bed, with a child/young person.
- In the event that Puddle Jumpers Inc is using a facility that does not lend itself to this practice, a minimum of two (2) adults (workers/volunteers) per sleeping area must occur and worker to children/young person ratios must be maintained.
- Separate room, cabin, or tent for boys and girls. The exception to this is that sometimes when we have siblings on camp and they (and their carers/guardians give permission) request that they sleep in the same dorm, in which case we will try to accommodate this (depending on availability of space) and they will be given a dorm separate from other children on camp.
- Children/Young People are not allowed to visit other rooms, cabins, or tents.
- Dorms are used for sleeping and changing only. The exception for this might be if a child needs space from other children/the camp group, then they may be able to spend time in the dorm alone for a period of time throughout the camp.

At the conclusion of each night's activities on camp, the Coordinators will generally set a time for all Children and Young People to go to bed. There will be volunteers allocated to each dorm (a minimum of 2 volunteers per dorm) to help children/ young people settle for sleep. This will usually involve settling activities (age appropriate) such as reading stories, patting on the back, or on occasion to encourage children to be silent to allow for others to sleep (if it's late and other strategies have been tried). This helps children/young people settle more easily and more rapidly and it also assists with identifying and assisting with any difficulties children/young people might have with settling, feeling homesick, etc. as well as it being a positive experience rather than a strictly lights out and no talking policy for bed time routines.

Once most of the children in the dorm have settled to sleep then, volunteers will move to nightly review meeting. There will be volunteers (usually 2-3, rostered shifts) allocated each night to dorm duty to ensure children are checked on and are safe while they are sleeping.

Positive Behaviours...

Rules and expected forms of behaviour are made clear to children and young people when they join a Puddle Jumpers camp or activity and are presented in age appropriate formats. They are the guidelines by which behaviour will be measured and acted upon. Many children will react negatively to forms of discipline which are similar to those they have encountered at school or home. The Mentor's role is to be as creative as possible when dealing with situations when they arise or to intervene to prevent them arising in the first place.

Volunteers play a significant role in maintaining discipline on camps and during activities.

'We all have the right to feel safe all the time'.

'Nothing is so awful that you can't talk with someone about it'.

The Basics of Puddle Jumpers Inc Behaviour Management:

- Creating an environment that is predictable.
- We believe that discipline means guiding the child/young person towards self-control and self-direction; it can never be reduced to the mere enforcement of a set of rules
- We see our task, not so much as curbing misbehavior, but rather as promoting constructive and positive behaviour
- We believe all human beings (obviously including all clients and volunteers) have a right to be treated with respect and dignity
- We see the development of a healthy self-concept in children as a major pre-requisite for sound discipline
- We believe that constructive discipline grows out of a warm child / mentor relationship
- We accept responsibility along with home and community, for helping our children to develop socially acceptable behaviour
- Create an environment that does not attack the integrity of the individual. It is the behaviour that is bad, not the person.
- Create an environment based on respect and consistency (make sure we are all on the same page – we all follow the same group norms and help to assist participants to do the same.
- Provide a consistent and positive role model for the participants to follow.

Our Volunteers...

Puddle Jumpers Inc relies heavily on volunteers for every area of the organisation's operations. There are various volunteer roles; admin work in the office, retail work at the Op Shop, food relief program workers include those at our warehouse, food hub, food collections and cooking programs, and at camp as mentors, facilitators, drivers or cooks. We have a large network of male and female volunteers, aged between 16 and 70 years. Volunteers who act as mentors on camps and other events are can be anywhere between 16 and 70+ years of age.

Generally, our volunteers are not professionals or experts in education or working in the welfare sector, however, they undergo training in Child Safe Environments, behavior management, conflict resolution, building self esteem in young people and working within the policies of Puddle Jumpers Inc. Some of our volunteers are studying in these fields and may be on a camp for work experience and/or field placements.

Each volunteer is subject to a working with children check, interview and reference check before they commence volunteering with us in children related programs.

Our volunteers attend camps and/or activities because they want too. We're lucky to work with such an inspirational group of people on a regular basis. They want to spend time with children, young people and families and have meaningful experiences.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer and being part of this amazing organisation, please contact us for a volunteer information & puddlejumper.org.au

Priority of needs...

With many children, young people and families wanting to attend camp there needs to be structure in place as to who is selected and who is placed on the waiting list. This is called the 'Priority of Needs'. Completion of a nomination form does not guarantee placement for camps. The selection of process is decided by the staff (using a priority of needs guidelines) and is up to their discretion.

The criteria for selection is taken from the information received through nomination form/s, the intake interview, as well as any new information as supplied by carers/ social workers/others involved in the lives of the child and/ or young person. Priority of our work is reserved for children and young people who do not live with their birth parents.

There are circumstances where children and young people or families will not be selected for camp. This includes; Children and/or young people that pose a threat to either participants and/or volunteers; and/or a disability that cannot be accommodated (i.e. multiple/ severe disability that needs specialist training). *Without a Carer or Staff Member willing to attend.

Puddle Jumpers Inc. reserves the right to accept or reject any application based on the number of places available, as well as on the best possible match between applicants, the skills of the mentors volunteering for a particular camp, and the needs of the camp as a whole.

Fees...

Fees for our services are advertised when we call for registrations of interest for them. This is usually sent out via email to agencies and mail to families on our databases. Alternatively you can contact us at any time to have a copy of our fee guidelines sent to you.

All fees must be paid prior to the camp or activity event.

We try to keep our costs to a minimum to ensure that our services are accessible to all children, young people and families. If families are experiencing financial hardship, they are able to contact us to discuss their situation.
